What started off as buying trips of gourmet Italian foods for our market has led Coco's to form a tour company for you, our friends and patrons. With Coco's it's like having a backstage pass to Italy's finest; we personally know the chefs, artisan shop owners and wineries that we will visit. Being a distributor of Italian products we have access to the most unique places that the average traveler would never be able to see, such as chocolate factories, honey producers, bakeries, farms, orchards, groves to pasta makers to name a few.

Our tours are not typical like most travel packages nor are they cookie cutter excursions with long lines. Every-day of the tour will be totally different, fun and interesting with enough time for sightseeing and shopping. If you have been to Italy many times or this will be your first trip you will have an exclusive and most fantastic experience with Coco's.
